Extinction is forever.

Wolverines, red knots and walruses are in grave danger. These animals and 260 others are slipping toward extinction and desperately need our help. Right now, they are stuck in limbo, waiting for Endangered Species Act protections. But the Extinction Rider included in the Interior appropriations bill would erase all hope of recovery by putting the brakes on life-saving protections that imperiled plants and animals need to survive.

Oppose extinction.

Vote for the Dicks-Fitzpatrick-Thompson Amendment to maintain America's commitment to saving imperiled wildlife.
